AL FRESCO DESSERTS AND DINING AT FINALE HARVARD SQUARE ARTFUL RAILING BORDERS OUTDOOR PATIO

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—Preparations are underway to launch the first season of the outdoor patio at Finale in Harvard Square. The Finale Patio abuts a small oasis of shade trees and pleasant landscaping, facing Mount Auburn Street. (It is approximately 20 yards back from the street.)

The Finale Patio is enclosed by a striking piece of artwork (railing), designed by David Tonnesen of Somerville, Massachusetts. It's modern feel lends itself to the look of Harvard's Holyoke Center. (makes a nice photo)

Co-founder Paul Conforti explains, "Dining outside will be even more satisfying this year, given how tough the winter weather has been in New England. People are tired of being cooped up. What better way to celebrate the coming of Spring than to dine outside?"

Finale Harvard Square is located at 30 Dunster Street at the corner of Mount Auburn in the Holyoke Center, across the street from John Harvard's Brew House.

The Harvard Business School developed concept opened it's first location in July of 1998 in Boston's Back Bay. It is a leading branded specialty restaurant featuring fine dining styled desserts, including the company's signature Molten Chocolate Cake. Finale also offers lunch and a light dinner menu. Finale has received recognition from the Food Network, Town & Country and Time Magazine, among others, for its award-winning desserts and unique concept.
